General Legal Counsel Services

Since the 1990s, JunHe has been providing general legal counsel services to various foreign investors for their investments in China and the foreign-invested enterprises established by such foreign investors. As the country's economy booms, JunHe is providing legal services to more and more state-owned enterprises, private enterprises and individuals. Among these clients there are a large number of listed companies, both domestic and foreign. Many of JunHe's valued clients maintain relationships with JunHe for well over a decade.

JunHe's general legal counsel services team consists of partners and lawyers across various practice areas in our domestic and overseas offices. Many of our staff have worked or studied abroad and have worked as senior government officials, business executives, judges, accountants, taxation specialists or scientists. Our lawyers can work both in Chinese and English. Our team has a deep understanding of our clients' business models and can propose optimum solutions based on their practical needs.

Our general legal counsel services include the following aspects:

- General and Specialized Advice. Advising on general legal issues in respect to our clients' daily operation and analyzing and advising on various specialized legal issues encountered by clients in their operations, such as intellectual property rights, taxation, customs and environmental protection.
- Routine Contracts. Drafting, reviewing and revising daily business operation contracts, including business cooperation agreements, distribution agreements, purchase contracts, sales contracts, service contracts, confidentiality agreements, lease agreements, license agreements and other legal documents.
- Corporate Governance Structure and Rules & Regulations. Assisting clients in establishing and improving their internal governance structures, improving internal rules and regulations, and drafting resolutions for the board of directors and shareholders' meetings.
- Compliance Advice. Rendering legal advice on various compliance risk controls for clients' local operations, and providing legal services to clients that are subject to compliance reviews and sanctions from government authorities.
- Labor and Employment. Providing legal services to clients at all stages of the conclusion, performance, termination, renewal and employment period of or under labor contracts, and assisting clients in handling general labor disputes.

JunHe, founded in Beijing in 1989, is one of the first private partnership law firms in China. Since its establishment, JunHe has grown to be a large and recognized Chinese law firm. The firm has fourteen offices around the world and a team comprised of more than a thousand professionals.

The team (JunHe) is visionary but practical, and always provides comprehensive and high-quality legal services.
