Assisted Source Code Capital in Raising RMB Fund Phase V

After initially assisting Source Code Capital in the establishment of RMB Fund Phase IV, JunHe also assisted the company in the establishment of RMB Fund Phase V. The total size of this fund was over RMB 7.6 billion, which was raised from investors including government-guided funds such as the National SME Development Fund, nearly 10 well-known insurance institutions, several market-based fund of funds, and industrial funders. As the legal advisor of Source Code Capital, we participated in the preparation, establishment and fundraising of RMB Fund Phase V, including assisting the client in designing and optimizing the fund structure, drafting a full set of legal documents for the establishment of the fund, assisting the client in negotiating with investors, conducting investor suitability verification, and assisting in the closing and filing of the fund.

Assisted the National SME Development Fund in the Establishment of Several Sub-Funds

JunHe assisted the National SME Development Fund in the selection of managers for several batches of sub-funds, which invested in CowinCapital, Costone Asset Management, Lenovo Capital, Fosun RZ Capital, Puhua Capital, Vision Plus Capital, Matrix Partners, IDG Capital, THG Ventures, FG Venture and other market leaders. The National SME Development Fund is a national investment fund established in accordance with the requirements of the SME Promotion Law, which is designed to give full play to the leverage and multiplier effect of central financial funds to attract non-government investments and jointly expand the size of equity investment in SMEs, to support the real economy and promote innovation and entrepreneurship. As the legal advisor of the National SME Development Fund, we assisted the client in conducting legal due diligence, drafting and revising a full set of legal documents for the establishment of the fund, negotiating with sub-fund managers, assisting in the closing of the fund, and issuing legal opinions.

Assisted SenseTime in Obtaining the First Pilot Qualification after the Launch of the Beijing QFLP Pilot Policy

In May 2021, the Beijing Financial Supervision and Administration Bureau in conjunction with relevant authorities officially issued the "Interim Measures on the Pilot Program of Qualified Foreign Limited Partnership in the Municipality" (the "Beijing QFLP Pilot Policy"). Beijing Guoxiang Shangheng Private Fund Management Co., Ltd. ("GXSH"), a wholly owned subsidiary of SenseTime, obtained the first pilot qualification of QFLP fund manager within two months following the launch of the Beijing QFLP Pilot Policy, and also completed the initial closing and filing of QFLP fund at the end of the same year. In this project, JunHe assisted the client in preparing a full set of pilot program application materials, issued legal opinions regarding the pilot program application and registration with the AMAC as fund manager, drafted a full set of legal documents for the fund establishment, assisted the client in negotiations with the fund investors, and assisted with the closing and filing of the fund. Upon the establishment of the QFLP fund, JunHe also assisted GXSH in completing several high-profile investment transactions.
